

Rexnord® Thomas® Couplings

Rexnord® Thomas® Flexible Disc Couplings - Series 71 - 8

The Rexnord® Thomas® Series 71-8 uses our popular Series 71 simple three piece coupling design with a drop out center section assembly and Rexnord Thomas Tpack™ disc packs.

The Series 71-8 provides significant increases in torque capacity allowing for a smaller coupling selection and higher speed potential. The disc design allows for low flexing forces and high overload capacity.

Rexnord Thomas disc couplings are manufactured within a certified ISO 9001 quality system and have unsurpassed quality, reliability and serviceability.

Rexnord Thomas Tpack disc packs are engineered for long life when applied within published ratings and environmental guidelines.

Our experience and dedication to ongoing research assures maximum reliability on the most critical drive systems.

Features & Benefits

- High torque capacity with less mass and higher speed capability
- Oversize bore capacity allows for coupling selection based on torque requirements
- Unique jacking bolt feature for easy removal of center member assembly
- Factory assembled center member assembly for repeatable balance characteristics
- Piloted adapter and center member assembly meet industry and safety requirements
- High reliability for the life of your connected equipment
- Extensive engineering support to assist in the correct coupling selection
- Custom design capability

When specified, Series 71-8 couplings meet all requirements of API 610 or API 671.

Rexnord and Thomas are registered trademarks and Tpack is a trademark of Rexnord Industries, LLC.
